Communion today

We will celebrate communion in a new way today.. Right after the morning worship service, every believer in the congregation is invited to the fellowship hall. Those who attend will immediately go to the footwashing stations and may participate or observe that symbol of cleansing and humble service. Then we will enjoy a light meal together, the love feast. The communion culminates with the eating of the communion bread and the drinking of the cup, commemorating the sacrifice of Jesus for our sins. The service will be shorter than usual because we will have already spent time in worship.
